Overseas student support services

- The ALIT must support the overseas student in adjusting to study and life in Australia by giving the overseas student information on or access to an age and culturally appropriate orientation program that provides information about:
  - support services available to assist overseas students to help them adjust to study and life in Australia
  - English language and study assistance programs
  - any relevant legal services
  - emergency and health services
  - the ALIT's facilities and resources
  - complaints and appeals processes
  - requirements for course attendance and progress, as appropriate
  - the support services available to assist students with general or personal circumstances that are adversely affecting their education in Australia

- services students can access for information on their employment rights and conditions, and how to resolve workplace issues, such as through the Fair Work Ombudsman.
- The ALIT must give relevant information or provide referrals as appropriate to overseas students who require assistance in relation to the services and programs, at no additional cost to the student
- The ALIT must facilitate access to learning support services consistent with the requirements of the course, mode of study and the learning needs of overseas student cohorts, including having and implementing documented processes for supporting and maintaining contact with overseas students undertaking online or distance units of study.
- The ALIT must designate a member or members of its staff to be the official point of contact for its overseas students. The student contact officer or officers must have access to up-to-date details of the ALIT's support services.
- The ALIT must have sufficient student support personnel to meet the needs of the overseas students enrolled with the ALIT
- The ALIT must ensure its staff members who interact directly with overseas students are aware of the ALIT's obligations under the ESOS framework and the potential implications for overseas students arising from the exercise of these obligations.
- The ALIT must implement a documented process for managing critical incidents that could affect the student's ability to undertake or complete a course, incidents may include but are not limited to physical and psychological harm.
  - The ALIT must maintain a written record of any critical incident and remedial action taken by the ALIT for a at least two years after the overseas student ceases to be an accepted student
- The ALIT must:
  - Take all reasonable steps to provide a safe environment on campus and advise overseas students and staff on their actions they can take to enhance their personal security and safety
  - Provide information to overseas students about how to seek assistance for and report an incident that significantly impacts their wellbeing, including critical incidents

- Provide overseas students with or refer them to (including electronically) general information on safety or awareness relevant to life in Australia.
